

The FCC has issued some RFQ's for DTV converter box in-home installations. I wanted to make you all aware of these in the event you, your organization, family or friends might be interested in these. If you have anyone that might be interested, such as "Joe the Plumber", please pass the information along. The first link will take you to the FCC page that includes other solicitations and the second link is directly to the in-home installation solicitations.
